

Newsletter

Uh oh...we just checked our watch. It's half past April and you haven't had your newsletter yet. Ulp.

Let's get right into it, so as not to keep you in suspense. We know you're wonderin' all about...

The new CD! Yes, Listen UP! is OUT AND AVAILABLE! It has been submitted to many fine places, both online and in real honest to goodness stores, and the list of places you'll be able to find it will be huge. Where can you get it RIGHT NOW? Try any of these fine outlets:

1) CD Baby: DANNY ADLERMAN AND FRIENDS: Listen UP! This will bring you right to the CDBaby page which has samples of every track and very easy ordering. And if you're wondering: Of all the online places to purchase CDs, CDBaby is EASILY, FAR AND AWAY the MOST fair for the creators. They are wonderful people with a wonderful site and service and treat the musicians very well, and to order from them is a very good thing.

2) For those in the general Metuchen/Edison area, please STOP IN AT The Raconteur, 431 Main Street in Metuchen, and ask Alex or whomever else is on for your copy. Because when you support an independent store such as The Raconteur you ARE supporting us, and this is the only store in this immediate area where you can find this CD. There will be more but we thought it important to give Alex an exclusive first.

3) Dig it all digital: If you're into the downloading thang, fetch it from iTunes, BuyMusic, MP3-Extension, Napster, & Tradebit. There will be many many more to follow as well, and when the songs are listed we'll keep you posted.

4) You can hear songs from this album on the following radio stations: Online Children's/Family Radio Station - Gooney Bird Kids - a Live365 Internet Radio station (WAY cool), or at Spare the Rock, Spoil the Child - a Saturday morning program from 8-10 AM on Valley Free Radio...but they archive the shows which you can find at the link above. There will also be more stations playing us soon and we'll keep you updated there as well.

NEXT UP: We have first proofs in - actually, we're awaiting second proofs as we write this - for our newest book, OH NO, DOMINO! Written and illustrated by Kim, with a great new song by Danny, and a reading by Kevin Kammeraad, this book & CD combo should be out by summertime, and is so much fun and so bright and colorful you'll feel the warm summer glow all year 'round. Really.

Along those lines, get ready for Kim's next exhibit! Kim will be exhibiting the original artwork from that same book, OH NO, DOMINO! at the Ocean County Library LONG BEACH ISLAND BRANCH! A wonderful retrospective of Kim's career, this exhibit is both fun and educational, as in addition to the artwork itself, a museum quality exhibit of how books are made is part and parcel of the showing. Check out the OCL CALENDAR OF EVENTS and be sure to come celebrate Kim at the reception, Monday evening, May 14th.

We do have more to tell you regarding both books AND music, but we think the news this time around is so very exciting we're going to let it sink in...we'll tell you about the rest of the laughfest we call our lives next time.

We're making a bunch of new appearances- the page will be updated this week. We know it's been a while since we updated the page, and we apologize for any inconvenience attached to that...it's only because knock on wood we are so busy...making appearances!

And now, for something completely different: Family news.

First and foremost, we lost Kim's mom in January. We miss her terribly and think of her so very, very often. It was very difficult, and Mom had not been in good health for quite some time, although her actual passing, mercifully, was not dragged out over too long a period. She was a heck of a good lady and a great mom, mom-in-law, grandma...she taught us, and still teaches us, about basic goodness and decency. Please don't forget to tell the people you love that you love them. You can't say it often enough, or soon enough. We were lucky to have that opportunity, but sometimes we need to be reminded. Mom made it easy.

Turning to happier events, Joshua is now the proud recipient of his BLACK belt in Tae Kwan Do. He is pleased as punch to have it, and even more pleased to no longer be in class. His choice, but we respected it. His calling this month is that of the theatre...he is playing the lead in Oliver! He sings! He dances! He acts! He slices and dices, and makes julienne fries! If you're around May 18 or 19th, come see him at the Edgar Middle School in Metuchen, or Sunday the 20th - the same day he graduates from Hebrew School, mind you - there is a matinee performance. That will be one busy weekend, let us tell you! On top of it all he is still enjoying the French Horn, and being the coolest boy a parent could ask for. Thank you, Cool Boy.

Maxx just had his Spring Extravagnza at school, and enjoyed that very much, thank you! He is also still enjoying Hebrew School, and overall is somewhat less destructive than he was. This says to us that he is plotting and scheming, awaiting only a turned back to strike, as he lulls us into a false sense of security. Take a look outside your window...see all that violent weather we've been having? Do NOT anger this child...trust us. 'Nuff said.

Rachelle is involved in...well, high school! Still playing cello in the orchestra, attending Anime Club, doing all right, getting good grades, the future's so bright...gotta wear shades. You know the drill.

Murray and Hercules: Still stupid. And lovable. And one of them loves us back. Let us take the detective work out for you: it's the dog.

Site of the month: Draft Tek uses a computer model to generate a seven round simulation for the 2007 NFL Draft. It's neat and cool and for football fans is both fun and interesting. If you get hooked, it's not our fault.

Rock and roll closer: John Lennon observed, back in the early 70's (when it was still hip to have a revelation), that "...we all shine on like the moon and the stars and the sun". He wasn't wrong.

Bowling: We're doing it again! We've both improved our scores! We couldn't be more mediocre if we tried - 4th out of seven. It even bores us.

We're your biggest fans,

- The Clan Adlerman.
